Not illustrated. 1843 Excerpt: . . . the Corporation might be compelled to make good all dead rent, without any demolishments or deductions: but the Corporation is only Collector, and not Farmer, of these rents, and consequently not obliged to make good what cannot be recovered. The annual amount of this impost is somewhat more than 109. From an ancient paper, without date, . in. the collection of Mr. Martin, it appears that lady Adams, and the coheirs of William Allington, Esq. received 61. 3. y. 6d. and Captain Gibbons, in the right of his wife, late Mrs. Smith, 27. 4s. 4. f, both from the Collective rents. The collection was originally in two separate portions, one of which Was called Land-Mole Rents; but that, in process of time, they became jumbled together in one rental, and for very many years have been collected without any known distinction to which of the proprietors any of them did properly belong. Many attempts have been made by the proprietors to ascertain such a distinction; and application, at a considerable expence, -has been made to some old deeds in the Exchequer, but which were found to be expressed, in terms much too general to afford the desired information, the obtaining of which is now considered as absolutely impossible. Proprietors of Fee Farm Rents, lyord Braybroke, Rj Vernon-Sadlier, Esq. -R. Walpolc, Esq. and M. T. Cocksedge, Esq. Il. W. H. W. Barwick, Esq. purchased of Lord Braybrooke his third share of the Fee Farm Rents, 3d June, 1802....
